

ROLTA OPENS NEW MANAGED SERVICES CENTERS IN ATLANTA, DENVER, AND HOUSTON

Global IT Solutions Company Expands Nationwide Presence As Managed Services Shift into High Gear

INDEPENDENCE, OH, February 24, 2015 – Rolta AdvizeX announced today the opening of new Managed Services Centers in three major U.S. cities: Atlanta, Denver, and Houston. The announcement comes as more enterprises seek Rolta's Managed Services expertise for both core and mission-critical IT services.

Rolta AdvizeX now has seven unique Managed Services Centers around the globe. Rolta, therefore, offers scalability and expertise to customers to provide highly responsive 24X7 support by drawing upon the resources from all centers as needed, and functions as a seamless extension of the enterprises' own IT departments.

Managed Services enhance an organization's competitive advantages as more businesses look to focus internal IT resources on strategic business initiatives rather than day-to-day management and monitoring. Rolta leverages its IP such as Rolta Adviser™ to help customers take a holistic view of their IT infrastructure and to chalk out a roadmap for adoption of Converged infrastructures. Rolta's offerings include comprehensive solutions and services based on the Rolta SmartMigrate™ Suite for migrating customers' databases and applications from diverse technologies to consolidate on a single platform to help them quickly achieve significant performance enhancements and cost savings.

"Eliciting the help of Managed Services professionals is no longer a 'nice-to-have' but a competitive advantage for most organizations," said Patrick Fettuccia, senior vice president for Rolta AdvizeX. "Our ability to develop customized solutions leveraging proprietary service delivery methodologies and IP has propelled our growth while maintaining high levels of customer satisfaction. As a trusted Managed Services partner, we are invariably able to expand the scope of engagement to cover solutions and services in areas such as Big Data Analytics and BI".

Traditionally, Managed Services offerings have focused on outsourcing the IT network. Rolta AdvizeX goes beyond that role to offer a wide range of services, both as standalone engagements and via tiered service contracts that deliver basic, intermediate, and turnkey services to small and medium enterprises across industries. With strong relationships with technology providers, Rolta AdvizeX understands how customers' applications impact their business and what they mean to their broader organizational initiatives.
